If a sufficient number of people try these two methods, will the hypnosis system collapse?

After I published this article, several staff members of the Hypnosis System wanted to negotiate with me and did not want me to continue sharing my experiences. But I had no interest in communicating with them, so the Hypnosis System created an illusionary world of "Wanted Me" in several parallel worlds and arranged several staff members to attack me, secretly starting to cultivate several attackers against me. To deal with this situation, I used the higher SoC(stength of consciousness) part of myself to destroy all entities, thoughts, and instructions that had malicious intentions towards me. I have currently discovered that a part of my SoC exceeds that of the entire Hypnosis System, and the part of myself I am using is one of them, and it is currently the most stable. So, this part of me began to create a large number of identical SoC duplicates, invaded the entire Hypnosis System, and executed this idea, destroying all thoughts that had malicious intentions towards me. In the dream, I also used this part of my SoC to counterattack and destroy these entities with malicious intentions towards me. Eventually, the Hypnosis System ordered to terminate all malicious actions against me, and the duplicates of this part of my SoC are still monitoring and destroying all possible direct or indirect malicious thoughts against me. Then, I also began to try to actively use this part of my SoC to deal with more situations...
This experience and attempt gave me a curious thought: If a sufficient number of people try this, will the Hypnosis System collapse?
The methods of trying are:
1. Objectivity. Objectivity can crack illusions and gradually regain the self with a higher SoC.
2. Use the part of oneself with a SoC higher than that of the Hypnosis System to replace the part of oneself with a SoC lower than that of the Hypnosis System in oneself behavior.

I am currently also trying and adjusting these two methods...
